

Silver Linden

Tilia tomentosa is a species of Tilia native to southeastern Europe and southwestern Asia.

It has a shiny dark green leaf upper surface with an attractive silvery under surface that is visible when the wind blows.

With smooth light gray bark, resembling beech, it has yellow-white flowers in late June. It is a good street tree and lawn tree that is tolerant of drought.

Tilia tomentosa

Stock category

Trees

Stock subcategory

Ornamental

Characteristics

Average height

100 ft

Average width

20 ft

Bloom colour

White

Bloom months

May

Foliage colour

Green

Sun zone

Medium sun

Water zone

Medium water