Kinnikinnick

A trailing, evergreen shrub (A low growing, usually less than 15 feet, woody perennial plant without a central stem. Shrub with paddle-shaped leaves on long, flexible branches. Nodding clusters of tiny, bell-shaped, pinkish-white flowers give way to bright red berries that can persist until winter. This ground cover is suitable for landscaping rocky or sandy sites and can be kept pruned to fit smaller landscapes.

Botanical name
Arctostaphylos uva-ursi
Kinnikinnick
Stock category
Shrubs
Stock subcategory
Native
Xeriscape

Characteristics
Average height
6 ft

Average width

5 ft

Bloom colour

Pink
Bloom months
May
June
Foliage colour
Green
Soil needs
Well draining, rocky, sandy.
Sun zone
Full sun
Water zone
Low water