Red-Osier dogwood

In the wild, it commonly grows in wetlands. It is a medium to tall deciduous shrub, growing 1.5–4 m tall and 3–5 m wide, spreading readily to form dense thickets. The branches and twigs are dark red, although wild plants may lack this coloration in shaded areas.

Cornus stolonifera

Stock category

Shrubs

Stock subcategory

Native

Riparian

- Characteristics

Average height

6 ft

Average width

6 ft

Bloom colour

White

Bloom months

May

Foliage colour

Green

Sun zone

Medium sun

Water zone

Medium water