'Strawberry Seduction' Yarrow

The deep green foliage is lace-like, attractive and in good scale with the large button clusters of tiny flowers. In terms of garden use, yarrows are an old, old plant, and whereas it is a mainstay of the classic cottage and cutting garden, its semi-prairie appearance makes it great for large spaces.

Large clusters of strawberry red flowers have a gold center, giving the appearance of a colourful, domed canopy. As flowers fade and die, they turn yellow and remain attractive.
