Nodding Onion

Soft, grasslike leaves and flowering stalks rise from a bulb. The (The main axis of a plant.) stem bends so that the purple-pink flowers "nod" toward the ground. A wonderful plant for pollinators, this clumping perennial grows quickly and has a mild, oniony scent that detracts deer from nibbling it.

Allium cernuum
Stock category
Perennials
Stock subcategory
Native

Characteristics

Average height

20 in

Average width

20 in

Bloom colour

Pink

Purple

Bloom months

June

July

August Foliage colour Green Soil needs

Well drained, humus-rich

Sun zone Full sun

Water zone

Medium water