Copper Beech

Copper Beech grows to a height of more than 40m.

The bark is smooth, thin and grey, often with slight horizontal etchings.

Twigs are slender and grey but not straight - their shape resembles a zig-zag.

Leaves are coppery to deep purple, oval-shaped and fringed with silky brown hairs.

Fagus sylvatica f.purpurea Stock category Trees Stock subcategory Ornamental

Characteristics

Average height

100 ft

Average width

50 ft

Bloom colour

White

Bloom months

May

Foliage colour
Brown
Green
Red
Sun zone
Medium sun
Water zone

Medium water